ADOPTION OF LITARY BILL FORECAST

Washington, Sept. 10—(AP)—A $1,103,856,000 military bill came up for action today. No opposition is sight, and leaders hoped passage by nightfall.

A giant sum—which figures at about $400 for each man, woman and child in the country—assigned to provide the United States with more of the guns, aircraft and so on which adaptation leaders say is the best state of world peace.

Especially, the bill carries more money for planes, and it includes active to build up the Air Force as rapidly as possible to a strength of 95 wings.

Senate Appropriations Committee which approved the bill Friday added—over and over—the amounts which President Truman sought and which the House voted—a special fund of $1,000,000 for Navy and Air Force.

So in the measure is an unmet amount to be spent on weapons, which the President called "fantastic" and which senators have termed "stupor," "startling," "amazing," "beyond imagination."

The nature of these weapons is carefully guarded secret, but one has said they are not new and are not guided missiles. (Turn to Page Nine)

ACE SAYS KING LEADS NORMAL LIFE

London, Sept. 10—(AP)—A Buckingham Palace spokesman said King George VI "is continuing to lead his normal life, despite speculation that he is unwell."

A king made a trip by train to his Scottish castle of Balmoral to London Saturday for an examination. He then flew to resume his grouse-shoot holiday.

A weekend before, two of the king's doctors had flown to Balmoral to see him after he came down with a cold.

The king's health has worried subjects ever since he fell ill with a circulatory ailment of the legs. In March, 1949, his doctor operated to correct this condition.

A palace spokesman pointed out that the king's doctors have had no bulletins on his condition lately. Such bulletins are usually forthcoming on occasions when a specific ailment.

Weather Brings Out Large Crowd Closing Day of Youngsville Fair

While inclement weather lessened attendance at the annual Youngsville Community Fair during its first two days, Saturday's fine weather brought out a large crowd to view the excellent exhibits of try, field crops, vegetables, fruits, as well as shop exhibits, 4-H and Grange exhibits.

Girls from Sheffield took all three places in the first year clothing class of the 4-H club. Gracie Bloss was first; Marian Caporini, second, and Judith Ristau, third. In the second year competition, Cec Camp of Torpedo was first, and Clara May Wentworth of Torpedo, won first in the third class.

The fair's handicraft exhibit, res Dalton of Sheffield, took with her "milk-strainer doll," in the general competition for a skirt made by Gracie of Sheffield, won first.

The outdoor cookery exhibit, Swede Hollow Club won first.

The flower exhibits created a great interest, particularly the Youngsville Garden Club and the Youngsville Garden Clubs, as well as exhibits of many individuals had good vegetable and flower gardens.

School exhibits showed good of Youngsville school and school displays. Pittsfield and nearby schools had good exhibits. Handiwork of various kinds on display in the Three R's. The handicraft of many kinds, including clothing, hats, dresses, fine needlework, breads, dining room sets. There were some fine embroidered items, also crocheted and knitted items.

An exhibit of baked and canned goods made one's mouth water but could do no harm. How the young people of one of the church groups sold their own made candy, and there were articles of food for sale as well as meals served by a group.

Brooke's Ranch Wild West show, which the Fair Association brought in at quite a great price, was very good. There experienced cow boys and girl riders from the west rode beautiful Palomino horses, ponies, mules and even a llama bull. There was some roping and fancy riding.

Gromyko Going Home With Worst Diplomatic Defeat In History of Communist Russia

San Francisco, Sept. 10—(AP)—Andrei Gromyko is going home from the San Francisco Conference with Russia's worst postwar diplomatic defeat on his record—and with ammunition in his pocket for a new wrecking campaign against the Japanese peace treaty.

American diplomats, winding up their affairs in the Conference City today, predicted Russia will do its utmost to undermine popular support for the treaty with a massive propaganda attack throughout Asia and the Far East.

Western Foreign Ministers Gather For Vital Parley

Washington, Sept. 10—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson and Britain's Herbert Morrison discuss their difference over Suez, and the amounts which President Truman sought and which the House voted—a special fund of $1,000,000 for Navy and Air Force.

A proposed new partnership deal for west Germany, the British dispute with Egypt over Suez, and the Iranian and Far East crises were expected by diplomats to figure in the talk.

Acheson, Morrison and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France flew to the capital in an Air Force plane last night from the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco. For the next four days, in the first full dress big three meeting in a year, they are due to talk over a global range of problems—mostly involving Soviet Russia and Communism.

Today's Acheson-Morrison talks are to be followed tomorrow by a similar session between Acheson and Schuman. Beginning Wednesday it will be a three-way discussion. The three Allied high commissioners for Germany were on hand for consultation in the scheduled effort to iron out final details of the plan to bring the Bonn government into the western lineup.

Sunday School Teacher Who Doesn't Smoke or Drink Is New Miss America

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10—(AP)—Miss America of 1952, a Sunday school teacher who doesn't drink or smoke, didn't believe it when she was chosen queen over 50 other contestants.

"I thought I was too darned tall," said blue-eyed Colleen Kay Hutchins of Salt Lake City, Utah, as she straightened the crown on her pretty blonde hair.

Colleen's family was just as surprised. Her mother telephoned her from California after the announcement Saturday night and asked:

"Well, dear, whatever did you win it with?"

Colleen weighs 143 pounds, is five feet 10 inches tall, measures 36 inches at the bust and hips and tapers down to a svelte 24 inches at the waist.

The same bust, hips and waist were measured on Mrs. Penny Duncan of New York City yesterday at Asbury Park when she won the title of Mrs. America.

The queen of the married lovelies is also a blonde, three years

Russian-Type Rockets Used Against U. N.; Sharp Words Are Exchanged at Kaesong

CHECKUP IS MADE AFTER NEW PROTEST

Munsan, Korea, Sept. 10—(AP)—United Nations officers swapped sharp words with Reds in Kaesong today after investigating a Communist charge that an Allied warplane strafed the cease-fire conference city this morning.

The U. N. officers refused to give the Reds an on-the-spot report of their investigation. They also refused to concede that an attack had occurred or that a U. N. plane was involved.

They acknowledged only that during a four-hour checkup of the neutrality zone violation they found one bullet mark and a dozen .50 caliber slugs in and around a group of stone houses. The houses were about three-quarters of a mile from the site of the suspended armistice talks.

The investigators said the bullets appeared to have been fired from several directions and at different angles.

This would conflict, they said, with the Red assertion that the plane made one pass over the house.

When the investigation was completed, the senior Allied officer refused a Communist demand for a reply to the charge.

Several times Darrow and Chang exchanged sharp words.

At the afternoon session, held in the patio of the conference house, Darrow reviewed the evidence the U. N. investigators had seen and told Chang he would report to Ridgway and Joy. Chang stated his own summary of the evidence and repeatedly demanded a "preliminary conclusion" from Darrow. But he was turned down each time.

The Reds said the attack took place at 1:35 a. m. (11:35 a. m. Sunday, EST.)

It was the 11th official complaint of the Reds that the Allies had violated Kaesong's neutrality.

Armistice talks, begun in Kaesong two months ago, were broken off by the Reds Aug. 23 on a charge that an Allied plane had bombed the city.

The Reds also filed their protest No. 12 today. This charged that Allied planes violated Kaesong's neutrality 139 times between Sept. 1 and 8. Allied officials say there was no agreement that planes couldn't fly over Kaesong. They said there probably would be no reply to this charge.

Another Package of Proposed Taxes Is Before House G.O.P.

Harrisburg, Sept. 10—(AP)—Another package of proposed taxes went before house Republicans today as new life was pumped into the often-rejected proposal for a state income levy.

The 120-member GOP house majority was called into a special caucus to make a new try at agreement on a series of levies to raise $128,000,000 in the next two years.

As the house Republicans met there were hints of a split in the senate Democratic leadership over the long-disputed income tax. Democrats have solidly opposed the levy.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, said it might be necessary to pass the income tax to avoid a breakdown of financial support to schools and state-aided institutions.

But Sen. John J. Haluska, the Democratic senate whip, disagreed with Dent. Haluska said he would continue to oppose the levy and that Dent was talking only for himself and not for the Democratic party.

The closed session of house Republicans represented the latest effort to break a tax deadlock that has kept the 1951 legislature in session longer than any other since colonial days.

Rep. Charles C. Smith, the Republican floor leader, said the house GOP leadership was hopeful (Turn to Page Nine)

Quadruple Amputee Weds Illinois Girl

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 10—(AP)—Hubert Reeves, 19-year-old quadruple amputee of the Korean war, was married yesterday to a girl he met through letters she wrote him while he was in a hospital.

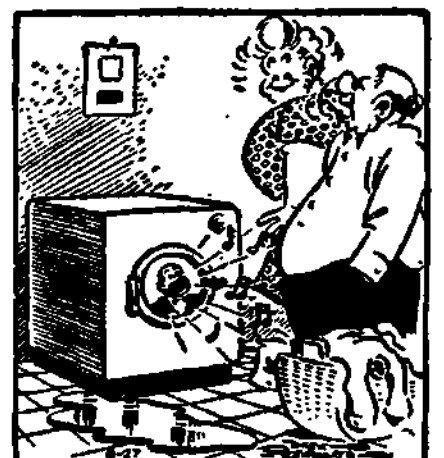

Hundreds of well-wishers filled the First Baptist church as Reeves was wed to Beverly Jean Hall, pretty 19-year-old brunette from nearby Wilmington, Ill.

The newlyweds have presents sent by people all over the nation, including $10,000 in cash from Joliet citizens, a television set from comedian Eddie Cantor, and $4,000 in gifts from a radio program.

Reeves' feet and parts of both hands were amputated after being frozen during the Red offensive in Korea last winter. He had been in combat less than a month.

His bride began writing him while he was in Valley Forge State Hospital at Phoenixville, Pa., last March. They later met and the romance blossomed.

SECOND JET AIR BATTLE IS STAGED TODAY

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 10—(AP)—Rockets of the type used by the Russians in World War II have landed behind Allied lines on the east central front, it was officially reported today.

There was speculation they might have been brought to Korea by Communist Caucasian troops recently reported near the battlefront.

No Allied installations were hit. Official sources refused to disclose the number of rockets that landed.

In the air war, 30 American F-86 Sabre jets tangled with 80 Russian-type MIG-15s over northwest Korea in one of history's biggest jet battles. Two Communist planes were damaged.

It was the second jet battle in two days. Sunday the Allies shot down two MIGs and damaged another. There were no Allied losses in either scrap.

Army sources said unofficially tonight they have reliable but not conclusive evidence that Russian pilots have been flying some of the MIGs in battles against the United Nations.

Monday's jet air battle ranged from altitudes of 40,000 feet down to tree-top level.

The Allied warplanes were led into battle by Col. Francis Gabreski, America's top ace.

"It was one of the most ferocious air battles I have ever seen," said Gabreski, a veteran of aerial warfare against the German Luftwaffe in World War II.

Other Fifth Air Force warplanes ranged through the clear Korean skies to pound Communist supply lines.

In the pre-dawn darkness Monday Allied fighter-bombers and bombers attacked heavy Red vehicular traffic bringing fresh troops and supplies down from the north.

Pilots said they destroyed or damaged 500 vehicles.

Ground action was slight Monday.

But speculation mounted that the Reds may soon launch a major offensive, possibly in the west.

In Kaesong, Communist ceasefire negotiators charged a new violation of the truce city. Allied officers went to the city to investigate.

The Fifth Air Force said its planes attacked more than 17,000 vehicles in the pre-dawn darkness. Heaviest traffic was reported between Sinanju, Pyongyang and Sariwon in northwest Korea, and near Pyongyang, northern tip of the Red front triangle on the west central front.

No major ground action was reported, but the Reds threw harassing mortar and artillery fire at Allied troops in the west.

The weather in Korea was crisp and clear, giving U. N. warplanes and artillery full scope.

Allied warships Sunday pounded the Reds from both the Yellow Sea and the Sea of Japan.

Kenneth Bertsch, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bertsch of Brown Hill, near Youngsville, is in Ridgway Hospital as the result of a one-car accident late Friday on Route 219, near Ridgway.

The car in which young Bertsch was a passenger and driven by Clarence Lund, 27, of Jamestown, formerly of Youngsville, failed to negotiate a curve.

Bertsch, who is suffering from possible concussion and severe head and neck lacerations, was reported in fair condition at the hospital today.

30-DAY SENTENCE

George York of Youngsville, sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Justice M. H. Brazee, was brought to Warren by Officer Charles Osgood of Youngsville, on Saturday, to start serving his term.

Visit From Bear Causes Excitement In East Side Area Near Lacy School

Other sections of the county having reported visits by black bear during the past few weeks, Warren's East Side was all agog Sunday when a large black bear was sighted behind Lacy school.

It was about 10:30 o'clock in the morning when the family of Harry B. Whitaker, 1605 Pennsylvania avenue east, was attracted by the barking of their six-week-old cocker spaniel "Boots." Investigating they were startled to discover the bruin sitting upright with one paw raised in a rather defensive manner. Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker called to their daughter Bernice, and then started after the bear, recalling with some disappointment that they did not think of securing a camera until too late.

The bear took off through a thicket in the direction of Marion street, encountering a fence which it found rather difficult to clear, but succeeded in getting over it on the third try.

It was about noon that the bear was discovered around the property of John Young, Jr., 1610 Pennsylvania avenue east. Flushed from its parking spot, it ran across the avenue through the Lacy school property, across Madison avenue, and over the hill at Averill street, disappearing in the woods in that area.

Borough police were called at 2:43 p. m. and when Patrolman Fred Irwin arrived at the school, the big bruin was making its way leisurely up a hill near the school, and disappeared into the woods.

Patrolman John Imperial said today that on a recent visit to his camp, located between Russell and Scandia, he saw a large black bear in the road.

Sylvania Workers Hold Annual Picnic

One of the most successful picnics of the year took place at the Marconi Outing Club, Sunday, when about 400 Sylvania employees gathered for their annual picnic.

The most amusing event of the day was the beauty contest to decide on a "Miss Sylvania."

The girl employees being far too modest to enter the contest, "the boys took over, grabbed a thing they called a puff, some very peculiar whitish stuff, and using about a half a peck, they spread it over face and neck. They took a thing from the high top stair, piled it high, piled it higher, and drove it home with staples of wire.

Now came a garment of awful shape, it wasn't a waist nor yet a cape, but it resembled a piece of ancient mail or an instrument from a Russian jail. And with a fearful groan and gasp, they squeezed themselves within its clasp. So fair and yet so fated! Then, surrounded by hat and gown and glove, and a thousand things that women loved—out stepped the winners, Bill Brooker, as Miss Twinkletoes." His friends in dresses were Joe Parks, Dick Krapfel, Tom Eagen, Joe Knowlton, and Al Mullhaupt.

A delectable hot ham dinner was served by Lewis Caterers, and the Johnson Trio provided dance music, round and square. Cliff Johnson of the drafting department acted as "M. C." and in the evening Cliff Briggs of the wire department presented an amusing skit.

Beaty Student Accomplished Baritone

Among the weightiest problems which confront most boys of 14 are who's ahead in the major leagues, who's going to win the next football game, or what's for dinner tonight on the family table?

But with Billy Carlson, Beaty Junior high school freshman, it's what to do about a great, deep baritone voice with which Billy finds himself endowed.

This modest youth has been known to Warren audiences since he started singing three years ago when he was but 11. When he first won an amateur contest at the Library Theatre, he was singing in the intermediate choir at Grace Methodist church, and as a member of the Warren Boy Choir, his voice was high soprano. Changing, as all young voices do, Billy's voice went from one extreme to the other, and now his voice has the deep, throbbing, voluminous qualities of that in a man of middle age. In fact, before entering the above-mentioned amateur contest, Billy had actually been singing publicly for a year; he was only 10 when he first sang in the Boy Choir.

Under Byron Swanson and other voice instructors, young Carlson received considerable training as a soprano. Now, as a deep baritone, advanced training and revision is required and Billy, modest and unassuming almost to the point of being shy, hardly knows what to do about it. Two musicians whose opinion can be respected have been asked by the Times-Mirror to hear this young singer, and have returned the verdict that his deep baritone is not only unusual but startling. They are most emphatic in declaring that he is entitled to advanced training and supervision.

Billy, who has taught clarinet and piano to beginners, not only attends school but works after school and on Saturdays in Mos-ter's Bakery, 305 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

As a high soprano Billy was in great demand on programs in and around Warren. He was always generous in contributing his time and services to the intense entertainment of listeners. Between his home work and employment at the bakery he hopes to find time to accept invitations to appear on programs as a baritone singer, and there is no doubt but that he will be receiving many invitations during the coming months.

From now on, the new schedule on Fridays for girl beginners will be as follows: Girl beginners, 9 to 16, 3:30 to 4; girl beginners, 9 to 16, 4 to 4:30.

Sam Morrell is proudly displaying a healthy chestnut branch at his restaurant, 42 Pennsylvania avenue, east. The branch, which was cut in an isolated wooded section of Warren county, was brought in by Jack Snyder, route man for the Sunshine Biscuit Company. Company "I" Farewell One Year Ago Tonight is Recalled

Personnel of Unit Reported to Have Undergone Drastic Change Since Going to Camp

The boys of Company I, seventy strong, marched down Pennsylvania avenue one year ago tonight and boarded a train for Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

Red flares, placed at regular intervals along the avenue, reflected many joyful, some grim countenances as the boys strode along to a train. At 10:55-p. m., the 12-car train pulled in and Company I boarded to join units from DuBois, Ridgway and Kane.

En route from the State Armory to the Pennsylvania station, the departing soldiers were accompanied by a color guard, the V. F. W. and, former members of Company I and the State Guard, firing red and color guard of the V. F. W.

W. W. the American Legion drill team, the V. F. W. Post from Clarendon, and the Marine Corps band. Lieut. Robert Greer was in charge of Company I. The committee in charge of the farewell service was headed by Willis Landahl, American Legion Post commander, and Al Arnold, commander of the V. F. W. Post.

Arrival in Camp Year Ago Recalled At Atterbury, Ind.

Camp Atterbury, Ind.—Pennsylvania's 28th Infantry Division returning from Exercise Southern Pine today reconstructed a scene that took place exactly one year ago when the "Keystone" Division was ordered into active military service on September 5, 1950.

Pouring from loaded trucks and troop trains this week after a month of North Carolina maneuvers, the troops marked their first anniversary in federal service in the same manner as they did when arriving at Camp Atterbury last September.

First call went to cleaning gear, scrubbing down dusty barracks and moving into fast operation as the Division began assembling at Camp Atterbury once more—this time to prepare for a trip to Europe in the fall.

The commander of the 28th Division, Major General Daniel B. Strickler, called the maneuvers, "a fitting climax to our year of service. They gave the men confidence in themselves and their ability to operate as a team under combat conditions. The maneuvers have shown us that our troops can take good care of themselves in the field."

All 28th personnel will be back at Camp Atterbury by September 10.

Last September 5, when the 28th started its third tour of duty in the last half century, plans called for an intensive combat training cycle such as few army divisions had seen before.

To bolster the Division's manpower, selectees and reservists from all corners of the country joined the 28th and added a national flavor—and many new leaders—during the months of instruction that followed.

First came basic training, opening phase of the combat cycle, followed by unit training which saw full companies and battalions take to the fields in medium-sized tactical problems, and finally, regimental and divisional exercises.

Early in 1951, several thousand selectees and reservists who had trained with the 28th left for assignments to the Far East Command. The excellent combat records scored by these men in Korea gave proof of the valuable training they received while in the "Bloody Bucket" Division.

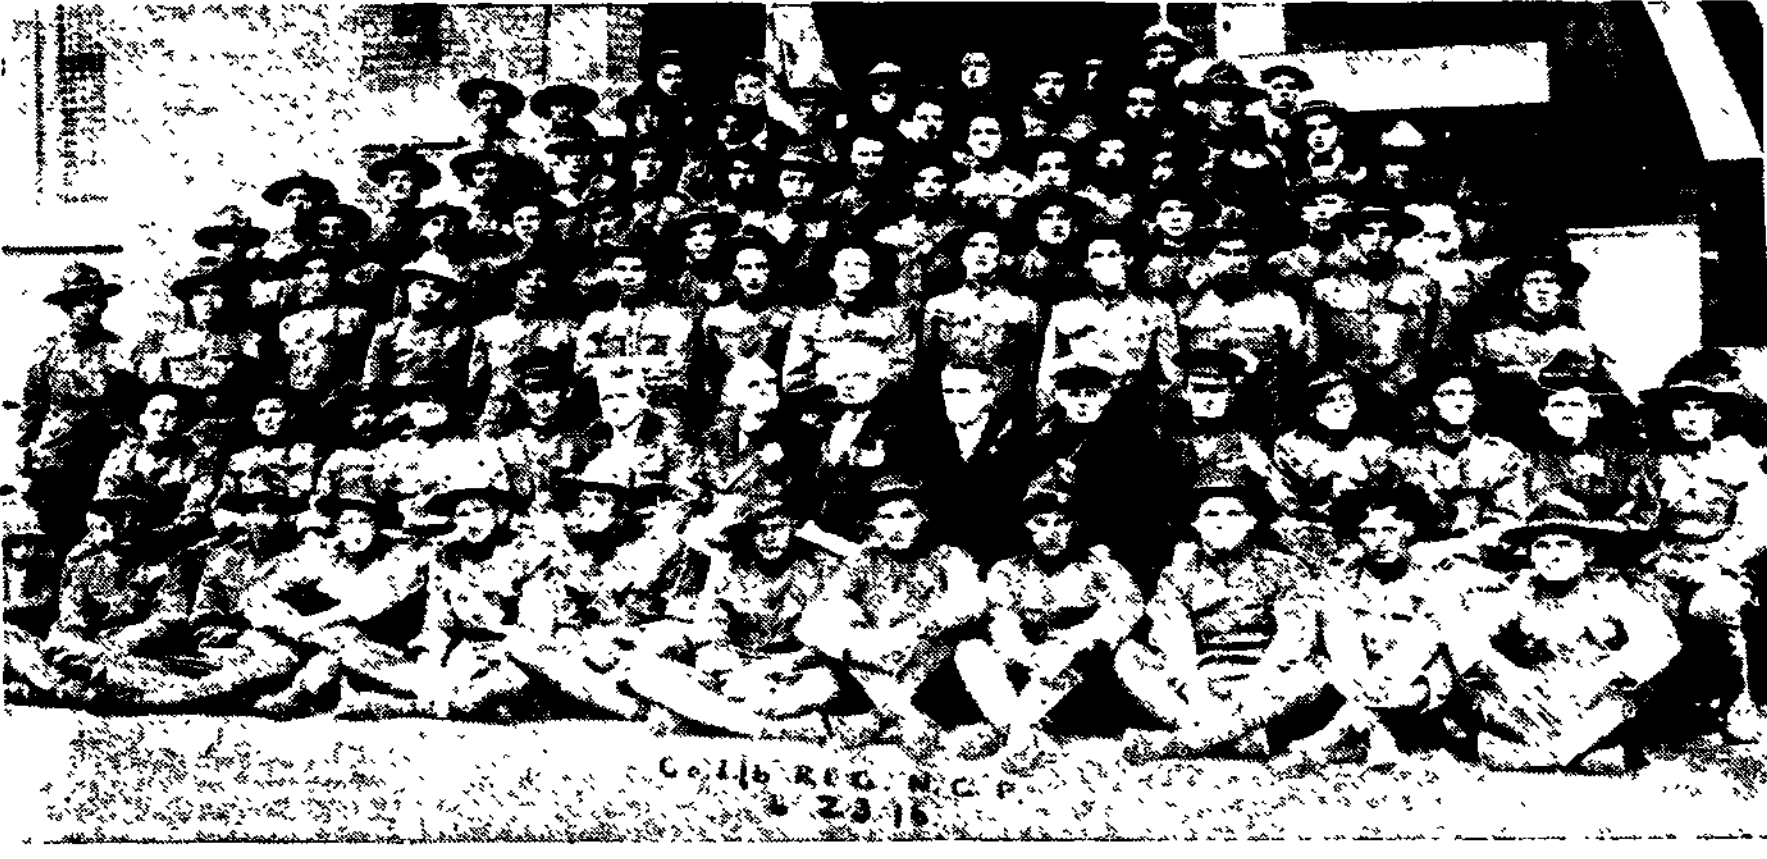

Visiting Army dignitaries, such as Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr., and General Mark Clark, Chief of Army Field Forces, put many "ok" marks next to the 28th's name after observing training at Camp Atterbury. The final touch was added at Southern Pine last month when the combat-ready 28th joined the 43rd Infantry and the 82nd Airborne Divisions to bring maneuvers to a successful climax.

Next stop for the "Bloody Bucket" Division is Europe, where it will become one of the six United States divisions assigned to General Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact Army.

Turkey Growers In Pennsylvania Set a Record This Year

Harrisburg—Turkey growers of Pennsylvania have set a new record that will assure plenty of birds for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners and, for that matter, any time of the year.

Along with a State Department of Agriculture announcement that the 1951 turkey crop will hit a record high 1,607,000 birds that growers expect to raise, comes word that farmers are meeting an increasing demand for "broiler" turkeys.

Broiler turkeys are young Beltsville White broad-breasted birds weighing 4 to 8 pounds at 14 to 17 weeks old that can be broiled, roasted, or cut up in pieces and oven or skillet fried, poultry experts say. Many broiler turkeys run as small as 2 pounds and slow cooking is recommended. Biggest demand is by the hotel and restaurant trade, with family use increasingly popular, they add.

The new 1951 record turkey production in Pennsylvania exceeds last year's record of 1,502,000 by 7 per cent. It will be 57 per cent above the 10-year 1938-47 average of 1,024,000 birds. The preliminary survey reveals Pennsylvania will rank 10th in turkey output among all states.

A support gives way. A wall roars loose and death tumbles into a mine shaft. The owner shrugs his shoulders. Shocked by an appalling accident rate and the irresponsibility of mine owners, SCAP has established a rigorous safety code and inspection system that has drastically reduced the accident toll.

By 1948, food production and the flow of raw materials had been restored and national recovery experts were able to turn their attention to Japan's millions of manufacturers of "not-so-good but twice-as-cheap" products. In December of 1948, the Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers ordered the Japanese to work harder and put in longer hours.

Graph above shows that by May of 1950 the manufacture of durable and non-durable goods soared to 89.9 per cent of the volume for the years, 1932-36. Geared to the needs of UN forces in Korea, industry soon hummed at prewar levels and in May of this year was an impressive 41.5 per cent above 1932-36 norm.

Chart illustrates the spectacular results achieved by SCAP in increasing production of desperately needed minerals, metals and petroleum. Note that production of copper and pyrites, vital to the fertilizer industry, has been more than doubled during occupation.

INDEX Fall and Rise of Japan's Manufacturing

Graph above shows that by May of 1950 the manufacture of durable and non-durable goods soared to 89.9 per cent of the volume for the years, 1932-36. Geared to the needs of UN forces in Korea, industry soon hummed at prewar levels and in May of this year was an impressive 41.5 per cent above 1932-36 norm.

The modernization and revitalization of industry, however, has not completely eliminated the numerous small-family or household factories which were for prewar Japan the reputation of a "workshop nation." Common in Japan is the sight of an entire family, sitting beneath a ten-watt electric bulb, engaged in the manufacture of handicraft articles.

Japan lost an estimated 30 per cent of her industry during the war but emerged from the conflict with power facilities of better than pre-war capacity. But waste ran rampant. SCAP put its foot down with power rationing, and the installation of meters. More important has been SCAP's progress in teaching the Japanese how to regulate their utilities in the public interest.

The gain in oil production has been less spectacular but SCAP's long-range petroleum exploration program is expected to bear fruit. National recovery experts feel that Japan's industrial destiny may well depend upon her success in unearthing underground riches along the road to peace.

Japan lost an estimated 30 per cent of her industry during the war but emerged from the conflict with power facilities of better than pre-war capacity. But waste ran rampant. SCAP put its foot down with power rationing, and the installation of meters. More important has been SCAP's progress in teaching the Japanese how to regulate their utilities in the public interest.

THE JAPANESE PEACE TREATY

In the opinion of many editorial writers and news analysts Russia's refusal to sign the treaty of peace with Japan leaves the Far East in political turmoil and in danger of all-out war.

A state of war continues between Russia and Japan.

Peiping radio already has announced that Communist China considers herself at war with Japan now that Japan has signed a treaty with the western world.

What will the Reds do next?

Unless Japan signs separate treaties with the Communist nations of the world — — — especially Russia — — — the Far East may erupt into a full scale war.

Highlights of the Japanese peace treaty signed Saturday are outlined in an Associated Press dispatch as follows:

Ends the state of war between Japan and the Allied powers.

Recognizes the full sovereignty of Japan after six years as an occupied country.

Japan recognizes the independence of Korea; Renounces claim to the Kurile Islands, Formosa and the Pescadores, the Spratly and Parcel Islands and Pacific Islands now under UN trusteeship.

Agrees to UN trusteeship of the Ryukyu (Oki-jawa) and Daito Islands; the Bonins, Rosario Island and the Volcano Islands, and Parece Vela and Marcus Island.

Disposition of Japanese property in these islands is left to negotiations between Japan and present administering authorities.

Japan agrees to settle its international disputes by peaceful means;

And to live by the principles of the United Nations.

All occupation forces to be withdrawn from Japan as soon as possible—not later than 90 days after the treaty signing.

"Nothing in this provision shall, however, prevent the stationing or retention of foreign armed forces in Japanese territory" by agreement with one or more of the Allied powers.

Japan accepts the judgments of the International Military Tribunal and other Allied war crimes courts; the decision of clemency powers is left to the Allied governments.

Japan declares its readiness to negotiate trade and maritime agreements with Allied powers, according them most-favored nation treatment.

Differences over interpretation of the treaty not otherwise settled to be referred to the International Court of Justice.

Soviets May Surprise Everyone By Signing Japanese Treaty

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

FRANCISCO—(NEA)—At the beginning of this great medicine show to get a peace treaty signed with Japan, the $64 question is, "How will the Russians try to break it up?" First round diplomatic cocktail parties and pre-conference luncheon and dinner groups are kicking around these theories, since Andrei Gromyko isn't tipping the Russian hand:

1. The Russians will walk out by Friday. Even money on this one. The argument is that as soon as the Russians see the cards are stacked against them, they'll issue a blast and go home mad. Against this is the argument that a walk-out would do them no good. They lost ground when they walked out at UN and eventually had to come back.

2. The Russians will try to string out the conference in the hope they can break it up. This has been Russian form on Austrian peace treaty negotiations. It was what Gromyko did last spring in Paris when Big Four deputies were trying to prepare an agenda for Council of Foreign Ministers meeting to talk peace. No very plausible arguments against this except that the Russians have been waging a peace propaganda campaign, and to sabotage another conference now would convince non-Communist countries that Russians don't want peace.

3. The Russians will try to use threat of renewed war in Korea to make non-Communist countries accept Russian ideas of what Japanese peace should be. This is a long-shot bet. There is ample evidence North Korean and Chinese Reds are ready to launch a major offensive on go signal from Russia. Cease-fire negotiators have been acting tough and as though they're perfectly willing to break off pre-armistice talks with United Nations commanders. Against this is the argument that new Korean offense would have opposite effects. Pearl Harbor didn't cause U. S. to throw up its hands and surrender. It toughened U. S. will for an all-out effort. A new Red drive in Korea, after the false cease-fire moves, would further strengthen United Nations solidarity and end all thought of appeasement. This would block Russian ambitions.

4. The Russians will sign the treaty. Odds ten to one or more if you can get them. There are, however, several good arguments for this possibility. If Russia does not sign the Japanese treaty, the Communists will have no standing whatever in Tokyo. Russia needs this toehold in Japan as a base for carrying on Communist agitation and espionage.

RUSSIA has nothing to lose by signing the treaty. Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko may object strenuously and skillfully on some sections of the treaty, trying to get a new conference to discuss all Asian problems. But when and if he sees he doesn't have the votes, he might step up and sign. He might sign, then have Russia fail to ratify.

There may be some effort to sign "with reservations." A question in international law arises here. Under Roman or English common law, it isn't possible to make a contract and then carry out only certain parts of it. Under Russian concept of law, where the state interprets the law to suit its own convenience, it would probably be interpreted in Japan as a base for carrying on Communist agitation and espionage.

Television Talk
by CHUCK LOSH

One of the most frequent questions asked about television today concerns conversion of present receivers to receive the new U. H. F. channels. There has been a great deal of loud advertising on this subject by many TV firms which is not always a clear presentation of the facts.

First of all, let's go on record with one truism. Any television receiver can be easily converted to U. H. F. reception, contrary to some misleading advertising. The heart of the conversion question rests in a section of the television receiver known as the tuner. There are two general types in commercial use today. One is the "continuous" type tuner, the other is the band-switching or turret tuner. Both types can be converted. On present receivers the continuous tuner is probably easiest for the layman to tune, as it tunes with one knob much as your radio does. Conversion to U. H. F. with the continuous tuner is accomplished by means of an external control which can be attached to the antenna terminals of the receiver by anyone in 30 seconds using only a screw driver. Conversion of the turret or band-switching tuner can be accomplished internally, however, it is a job for a technician and cannot be done by the average individual. It has been the turret tuner advertising which has been misleading to the public. They don't mention the technician's fee for conversion. . . . When you buy Sylvania television you can buy with confidence in the future. Sylvania uses the easy to tune—one knob continuous tuner. It tunes just like your radio does with no confusing switches and fine-tuning knobs. And, best of all, the Sylvania U. H. F. converter tunes all of the U. H. F. channels and can be installed by you in 30 seconds.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Owens, 118 West street, was the scene of a delightful party Saturday evening, when members and friends of the Quaintance Class of First Baptist church gathered to help the couple celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

Lovely arrangements of fall flowers added colorful touches to the rooms. After the guests had been received, a program suited to the occasion was presented by members of the class and by Donald Owens, son of the honored couple.

given patrons "for free" and circulated the crowd selling them at "five cents each" and meeting with some success among men who seemed anxious to help encourage the young promoters. . . . Everyone who attended the Kiwanis affair, incidentally, will agree that the club, with the assistance of Joe Gardner, of the State Hospital, Leo Ward, of the Newell Press, and associates, combined to give the community one of the most pleasing afternoons of sport that has been presented in the area for many years. . . . Perhaps you noticed, if you were among those present, that the Dunkirk Gals wore their red caps throughout the game, while the Debs, from Buffalo, were bareheaded. . . . And those caps? . . . Kiwanians were wearing, were reminded, were holdovers from the Fourth of July parade.

Jack Donaldson, right, who is vice president of the Warren Boy Choir, represents his fellow-members in presenting a beautiful gold ring to Roger Rue, popular president of the choir, who leaves this week for Severn School, Severn Park, Md. The ring is inscribed "Warren Boy Choir" over a musical note. Young Rue has been a member of the choir for three years and its president for two years, and has contributed richly to the group's success through his many talents and winning personality.

The presentation took place Saturday evening when the entire choir descended upon the Rue home at Barnes for a surprise party. Features of the evening were the showing of colored movies and slides taken on the choir's recent trips to Philadelphia and Akron and delicious refreshments served to bring the party to a close.

Large Terminal In Wellsville Opened by Crossett Firm

Open house was observed Saturday night at the beautiful new terminal building in Wellsville, N. Y., which has just been completed by William F. Crossett, Inc., of Warren.

The guests included prominent residents of Wellsville, friends and customers of the Crossett firm, and a sumptuous buffet supper was served to 150. The Lewis Caterers of Warren, served the supper.

The Warren firm established a terminal in Wellsville over five years ago at Main and Dyke streets, which resulted in the warding this year of a contract for construction of the spacious new quarters. Wellsville is now the of the Crossett firm's four major terminals, the others being located in Warren, Oil City, and Buffalo.

William F. Crossett, Inc., now operates a fleet of 50 tank units, 22 of which are stationed in Wellsville. 22 of Crossett's 100 employees are in Wellsville.

"We are proud to be a part of Wellsville's industrial life and proud to be able to contribute to the community's prosperity," said Mr. Crossett, at Wellsville, Saturday.

Proving Again That It Pays to Advertise

The value of advertising was potentially displayed to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and Mr. Smith's mother, Mrs. Mildred Smith, who operate Belle View Lodge, Chapman Dam State Park road near Clarendon the past week-end.

The Smiths inserted an advertisement on Page 2 of Friday's Times-Mirror to remind the public of the good food available at the lodge. "We simply had all we could handle that evening," Mrs. Smith told The Times-Mirror on Saturday, "even with unfavorable weather." Saturday and Sunday business also was reported as excellent.

It pays to advertise.

Council Will Hear Third Reading Of Zoning Ordinance

Third and final reading of the Borough's new zoning ordinance will feature tonight's postponed meeting of Warren Borough Council, and at the last meeting Council President William E. Rice announced that Warren residents are asked to come before Council tonight and make any comments regarding the ordinance. It is anticipated that the ordinance will be passed without opposition.

President Rice will introduce a resolution tonight to change the monthly meeting date from the first to the second Monday, object thereof being to give enough time for the closing of the books of the previous month so that the report may be submitted. Mr. Rice today gave credit for this resolution to Borough Manager L. M. McConnell and commented "that it should have been done 75 years ago."

Bids for the resurfacing of Fourth avenue from Market street to Laurel street will be opened tonight.

Prior to tonight's meeting, Council members will honor the retiring borough solicitor, Attorney Sidney D. Blackman, who has served for 25 years, with a dinner party at Geraci's Home Spun Inn, Burgess William F. Crossett, Mr. Rice, Borough Manager McConnell, Borough Secretary Marjorie L. Dougherty, Borough Engineer Calvin Barwick and the new solicitor incumbent, Attorney S. Knox Harper, will also attend the dinner.

INSIDE AN ATOMIC PLANE . . . (HOW IT MIGHT LOOK) — This phantom sketch shows how the world's first atomic-powered plane might be built. It would be a sky giant that would dwarf the B-36. Wide, thin wings that permit great speeds will probably require the flying-boat hull. Huge size is necessary to accommodate the very heavy engine. The world's first atomic-powered plane, ordered by the U. S. Air Force, is now taking shape on the drawing boards at Consolidated Vultee Aircraft, Fort Worth, Tex. Flight-testing is not expected until 1953-54. (Sketch copyright, 1951, by Popular Science Monthly, from NEA-Acme.)

MENU SUGGESTIONS

NEA Food and Markets Editor

TOMATOES are still big garden news. Use their sun-rich flavor in this dish with eggs:

Eggs Creole
(Serves 4)

Three tablespoons chopped onion, 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons melted fat, 1½ cups cooked or canned tomatoes, ¼ cup water, ¼ cup uncooked rice, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, 4 eggs.

Cook the onion and green pepper in fat in a large frying pan until the onion is lightly browned. Add the tomatoes and water and heat until boiling. Add the uncooked rice, salt, and pepper. Cover and cook over low heat until rice is tender—25 to 30 minutes.

Stir occasionally with a fork to keep from sticking. If the rice becomes dry, add a little more water. Drop eggs on rice. Cover. Simmer 5 to 10 minutes, or until eggs are as firm as desired.

Ever serve spicy tamale pie? It is a tasty tomato-flavored main dish.

Tamale Pie
(Serves 4)

One cup enriched cornmeal, 3 cups boiling water, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 diced onion, 1 diced green pepper, 3 tablespoons fat, ¾ pound ground, uncooked meat or 1½ cups ground cooked meat, 1½ cups drained canned or cooked tomatoes, chili powder and salt to taste. Stir cornmeal slowly into rapidly boiling salt water. Bring to boil over direct heat. Cover, and cook 45 minutes over boiling water, stirring occasionally. Cook onion and green pepper in fat until tender. Remove from fat. Add meat to fat.

If uncooked meat is used, cook until done. Add remaining ingredients and heat thoroughly. Pour a layer of the cooked cornmeal into a greased baking dish, add meat mixture and cover with rest of the cornmeal. Bake in a moderately hot oven, (400 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Canned citrus juice, ready-to-eat cereal, hot ready-mix muffins, butter or fortified margarine, plum, jam, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Eggs creole with rice, crusty bread, butter or fortified margarine, honeydew melon or fruit bowl, tea, milk.

DINNER: Saute of pork chops, mashed potatoes, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, celery, fresh fruit cup, coffee, milk.

THIS ONE CAN FOOL ONLY THE EXPERTS

You can't work a first-class swindle against a second-class player. He won't even notice what you're trying to do to him. That's why today's hand is such a gem. It took a great player to cook up the hoax play that eventually set the contract, but declarer had to be an expert to fall for it.

West opened the four of spades, dummy won with the queen, and East signalled loudly with the ten. South discarded a low diamond and cashed the king of spades to discard his other low diamond. West followed suit with the five of spades, since to drop the deuce would tell declarer that he had started with five cards in the suit.

The jack of hearts forced out West's ace.

West could now lead the jack of spades, and South ruffed with the three of hearts. Declarer next laid down the ace of diamonds, and East chose this moment to throw a monkey wrench into the works. East happened to be Samuel M. Stayman, author of the Stayman Convention and one of the most brilliant players in the world. He nonchalantly dropped the king of diamonds without a second's thought or hesitation.

South thought about this for a while. East apparently had no more diamonds, he certainly had no more clubs, and there was only one spade out. It seemed that Stayman's remaining cards were K-8-6 of hearts and the missing deuce of spades. If this were so, it would be fatal to lead another trump. East would take the king and lead the last spade, whereupon East would be bound to make another trump trick.

Declarer therefore led his last club and ruffed in dummy. On this trick, however, West discarded his remaining diamond and East over-ruffed with the king of hearts. Now Stayman returned a diamond and declarer could not shut out West's eight of hearts.

Needless to say, the average declarer would have drawn trumps without worrying about the deuce of spades or king of diamonds. And, of course, drawing the trumps would have made the contract.

Two From Here In Attendance at State Conference

Local delegates of the Phalanx Fraternity, Allen Anderson and Deane Swanson, who attended the State Young Adult Conference in Chambersburg Saturday and Sunday, report the council meeting a huge success and very worth while. Conference sessions commenced at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, at which time the Warren boys sat in on the State Phalanx delegation meeting and discussed plans for the state meeting of the organization next May at York. Immediately following, the business meeting of the YAC was held. Anderson, pro-primus west for Phalanx, was automatically an official delegate of the conference, and Swanson was appointed the second delegate for the Northwest District. The former also received appointment to the nomination committee for the April meeting of State YAC in Harrisburg next April. At 5:15 Saturday members attended the conference banquet and later went to the school auditorium for an address from the principal speaker, Paul Harris, Jr., world traveler, author, and lecturer. In his speech, Mr. Harris was very potent in expressing his thoughts of society, world affairs, etc., each topic being brought up later in discussion groups. The Warren representatives will report back to their club on the following subjects, in which groups they participated: "A Chance to Make Good—At What?", "Crisis in Morals", "Christian Standards of Marriage", and "Moving Toward World Understanding". Sunday had on the program agenda a communion service, worship service, discussion group sessions, and the closing address by Mr. Harris.

Two Hurricanes Bypass Bermuda

Miami, Fla., Sept. 10—P—The two Atlantic hurricanes, their power broken by an encounter that saved Bermuda, whirled harmlessly over open water today, far from any major land area. The unique meeting of the two great tropical storms knocked one of them, "Easy," off a beeline course to Bermuda as the British island braced for a 160-mile-an-hour blow. "Easy" was churning northward at eight miles an hour toward Bermuda when the smaller, faster-traveling hurricane, "Fox," spun across its path. "Easy" ground to a stop, then swung sharply eastward to by-pass cringing Bermuda on the south. This strange brushing of the hurricanes, the first in Miami weather bureau records, knocked much of the steam out of the big twisters. "Easy's" wind velocity fell to 100 miles per hour. The "Fox's" winds dropped from 100 to 80 miles an hour. Then the two sped swiftly away from the scene.

Second Week of Teachers' Strike

Pottsville, Sept. 10—P—A strike of some 100 teachers in the eastern anthracite area for back salaries entered its second week today. In nearby Gilberton Borough, 24 teachers reported to schools but refused to start classes until they are paid overdue salaries. John Miller, spokesman for the teachers, said they would remain in their classrooms until noon (EST.) and then go home if the checks are not handed them then. The salaries were to be paid from a state emergency grant of $12,000 and a bank loan. In Harrisburg, the State Department of Public Instruction said the grant to Gilberton had been approved and was in the process of being cleared for payment. The state treasury said it would be impossible to get out the check today, even should the requisition reach that department during the day.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), floor manager for the big money bill, said "the real issue" is an extension of U. S. air power until this country can demand that Soviet Russia decide between real peace and war. In addition to the $5,000,000,000 for added air power not yet spelled out, and some smaller amounts for special projects, the bill breaks down this way: For the Army, $20,038,220,594. Visiting Nursing Association Active In Warren for Over Thirty-Five Years

VISITING NURSE HELEN DOWNEY

Announcement has been made by Nat W. Drake, executive secretary and campaign director of the Warren Community Chest, that special chest publicity for participating agencies during September will be given to the Visiting Nursing Association.

It was back in 1916 that a group of local citizens realized the need for visiting nurse facilities in the community and in March of that year organized the Warren Visiting Nursing Association.

The Reform Department of the Woman's Club sponsored the organizing of this association and the men and women who comprised the first board were as follows: Sarah H. Logan, Clara S. Craft, Gifford G. Smith, C. T. Conarro, Etta H. O'Dell, Mathilda Bell, Elizabeth S. Beaty, Bertha F. Kitchen, Walter C. Beck, H. V. Hazeltine, M. C. Farshall, and Lillian G. Henry.

The primary purpose for which the association was formed was to provide skilled nursing care for the sick poor in their own homes, as well as to teach and demonstrate the principles of hygiene and sanitation as applied to families in their own environment.

From the very beginning it was the policy of the association to charge a small fee to those who were in a position to pay for services rendered and this policy is still in practice. Amount of fees are based on the patient's ability to pay, but services are rendered free to those who are unable to pay. This policy has enabled the association to be partly self-supporting.

The present visiting nurse is Miss Helen Downey who is very efficient and competent in her work, which is primarily bedside nursing, public health instruction in general family welfare and pre- and post-natal care. She also administers hypodermic treatments under the attending physicians' instructions.

Considerable equipment is owned by the association, most of which has been donated by various organizations and individuals and is made available on the same basis as other services. This equipment includes crutches, walkers, commodes, wheel chairs, hospital beds and other miscellaneous items incidental to needs of the sick.

In 1919 the Child Health Center was organized as an activity of the association and remained so until 1948 when it became an independent organization.

The outstanding service this association has rendered to the community for the past 35 years, speaks well for the civic-minded people who have served as officers and directors. This year officers are as follows: President, Miss Mildred Blair; vice president, Miss Dorothy Newell; secretary, Mrs. H. R. Robertson; treasurer, Wallace Cowden, and auditor, Carroll Smith. Other directors in addition to the above officers are Mrs. Marshall Bucklin, Mrs. Arthur Chapman, Mrs. George Craft, Mrs. H. N. Elmquist, Mrs. Fred Emhardt, Mrs. J. H. Goldstein, Mrs. H. A. Rinsard, and Mrs. H. P. Stone.

The Community Chest office has arranged for members of the board to talk before the local service clubs regarding the work of the Visiting Nursing Association and the following schedule has been arranged: Mrs. H. P. Stone will talk before the Business and Professional Women's Club on September 11th, and Lions Club on September 18th. Mrs. Fred Emhardt before Rotary Club on September 17th and Kiwanis Club on September 19th. Miss Dorothy Newell will talk before the Zonta Club on Sept. 27th.

Miss Downey will accompany these directors at each presentation and take part in the discourse. A. L. Rasmussen, president of Warren Community Chest Inc. has said of the Warren Visiting Nursing Association, "We in the Chest feel we are fortunate in having such an organization functioning in the community and believe their inclusion as a chest agency is fully justified."

Warren Combat Veteran Is Jet Bomber Pilot

A World War II combat veteran, Captain Marshall N. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Johnston, 101, Russell street, has been assigned to the 58th Bombardment Squadron at Langley Air Force Base in Virginia as a jet bomber pilot.

The flight commander is shown in the accompanying Air Force photo boarding his plane for the take-off to South Carolina and participation in the joint Army-Air Force training exercise South-eastern Pine. The task of the 58th was to simulate bombing of the "aggressor enemy force" which had supposedly established a foothold on South Carolina's eastern shore in the opening phase of the exercise.

Captain Johnston enlisted with the now defunct Army Air Corps at the beginning of the second World War. Following completion of flying school, he was sent overseas to the China-Burma-India Theater of Operations. There, he flew 70 combat missions and 280 hours of combat flying in twin-engine B-25 Billy Mitchell bombers.

He tells of some interesting incidents, one of which occurred while his mission was to hit the marshalling yards at Chin Hill, a relatively obscure Burmese city. Carrying a load of high explosives, his flight took him over the rugged foothills of the Himalaya mountains. The B-25's performance was somewhat hindered due to the payload it was carrying. This condition, coupled with the rarified air at 12,000 feet, brought about a precarious situation when he attempted to traverse the mountains. With only 1,000 feet altitude, Captain Johnston continued the mission.

Only by weaving in and out of valleys, saddlebacks and cuts, was he able to make progress. He was halfway across and one of the two engines, commenced to sputter. The emergency procedure had to be carried out quickly, because his position was such that each foot of altitude was at a premium. He dropped the bombs, feathered the propeller on the bad engine, and somehow managed to maintain directional control.

The captain knew, however, that unless an airfield was nearby, his problem was only half solved, and if he did not get the answer to the last half, all was in vain. By some stroke of luck, it was recalled that at the briefing which took place before the flight, the intelligence officer had mentioned an airfield en route.

The British had just activated their, but it was located on the other side of the foothills, which meant the captain and his crew were still far from safe. The field was finally sighted. It was not much, a short, gravel runway hacked out of the undergrowth and trees. But this was no time for formalities, and Captain Johnston brought his plane in without any formality.

His decorations include the Air Medal with 10 oak leaf clusters and the Distinguished Flying Cross, in addition to other campaign ribbons and medals. Now, as a flight commander with the 58th, he is responsible for the aircraft and personnel assigned to him.

His wife Rosemary, and their daughter, Constance, reside in Hampton, Va. The regulation of interest rates is generally exercised by state legislatures.

Washington Letter

SAN FRANCISCO—(NEA)—Having shot their first wads and missed, the three Communist countries at the Japanese peace conference here are still just as much of an enigma as they ever were. American and Allied delegates are congratulating themselves on the unexpectedly rapid progress made at the opening session. But they are puzzled by the comparatively weak case which Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko presented.

The Chinese Communists should feel considerably let down over the weak presentation of their interests, according to one American official's point of view. U. S. representatives were frank in saying they could have presented a much tougher case against their own treaty than the Russians put forward. When Mr. Gromyko finally stated his objections to the American-British sponsored treaty draft, he presented nothing new. Everything had been said before in a June 10 note to the U. S. Only the number of troops to be allowed Japan was different.

COMMUNIST delegates offered only token resistance to conference rules. It has been expected the battle over adoption of rules would take a day and a half. It took an hour and a half. While there were skirmishes going on, Ambassador John Foster Dulles, designer of the treaty, sat slouched in his center aisle opera house seat. He had a big yellow tablet on his knees, on which he made elaborate doodles. As his peace bulldozer went through its trial runs, showing that it was proof against sabotage by Russian monkey wrenches, Ambassador Dulles' face broke into wide grins. He had reason to feel proud of the peace machinery he had created. If this is one of the new U. S. secret weapons President Truman talked about, it's a dandy.

There is great temptation now to feel that the conference is as good as over. There is some feeling that Russia is putting up only half-hearted resistance. There is some hope that Russia will do the unexpected, switch policy as she has done in the past, and sign. The U. S. congressional and diplomatic team is not allowing itself to be lulled to sleep in a false sense of security by this rosy prospect. It will all be over when the treaty is signed.

WHAT the Russian stand at San Francisco does seem to reveal is that the Communists are greatly alarmed by developments in the Far East. Without going into all the technicalities which Gromyko slipped into his speech, these Communist fears stand out:

Soviet Russia and Red China want freedom to trade with Japan. They want Japanese industrial production to serve their economy, not the anti-Communist countries.

The lip service which Gromyko paid to the need for guarantees of human rights, freedom of religion and freedom of speech were a complete blind. What the Communists want here is freedom to agitate and establish communism in Japan for a future takeover.

Soviet Russia wants Japan completely demilitarized so that it will be helpless against Communist aggression by military force. Russia wants all Allied forces removed from the Far East. While Gromyko made this proposal in the name of furthering peace in the Far East, it would really pave the way for another war in this area.

In one sense, it is a good thing the Russians came to San Francisco. They have shown the Japanese delegates what the Communists have in store for them, if they dictate the peace.

Warren Dragons Come from Behind to Defeat Corry Beavers, 13-6, in First Game of Season

Warren High Dragons scored twice in the final stanza of Friday night's season opener at Corry to win over the Beavers by a 13-6 score.

Both touchdowns were scored after blocked punts, giving the Blue and White the chance to avenge the 14-7 upset handed out by the Beavers last year, and also moved them into a tie for first place in the newly-formed District 10, Section 2, Football Conference, with Oil City.

Coach J. B. Leidig's fast and hard driving Dragons made a showing that could indicate a fine season, as they moved the sticks 11 times to the Beavers' six and outruled their opponents 70 yards from scrimmage.

Dave Berdine took Amaross's kickoff at the start of the game and returned it to his own 40, from where the Dragons staged a 59-yard drive that looked like a sure payoff.

Four first downs were racked up in the drive, paced by veterans Toby Shea and Dean Vesling, with a big piece of ground chopped away on a 19 yard aerial from George Scalise to the latter.

Ed Frontera set Warren up on the 10 yard stripe, with first down and goal to go, but the Hannamen refused to give ground beyond the one yard line and took possession.

Corry's first threat came early in the first period when Jack Scott, Beaver signal caller, scooped up a Scalise pass on the Warren 25 and returned it to the 21.

Neither Jim Bogden or Jim Hannan could gain on an end run and hand-off, and Coates' 14 yard loss forced the Beavers to kick deep into Dragon territory.

The Blue and White gridders moved the sticks once and Vesling punted after losing four yards on three plays.

Bogden returned the boot nine yards to the Warren 46, where the Hannamen set out to draw first blood. Larry Vanderhoof, powerful Beaver fullback, touched off the fireworks with a nine yard push through center. A second Vanderhoof plunge brought the ball just short of the mark and the third play gave the Beavers a first on Dragon's 35.

A double reverse, with Hodie McLean carrying the pigskin, put Corry on the 28. Vanderhoof moved it to the 20 and the Hannamen earned another four downs.

McLean, on a reverse, secured the Beavers six more yards, and Vanderhoof lugged the remaining 14 yards through the Dragon line and backfield to touch pay dirt. The try for the extra point failed when Warren recovered the fumble on the play.

The score 6-0, Warren took the kickoff and lost the ball to Corry on a second down fumble. After three incomplete passes, McLean punted to the Warren 15. Scalise set the attack from there with a nine yard trip to the 24 and a 25 yard aerial to Vesling. Shea picked up the other two yards in the 35 yard drive that ended with intermission.

Third quarter action slowed down, the Leidigmen making the only threat as Shea, Vesling and a fast moving substitute, Bud Terry, placed the ball on the Corry 16, where the Beavers took over.

In the opening of the last section, Bogden and Hannan scattered four yards to the 20 in three downs, when McLean's punt was blocked by Ed Johnson and downed by Sam Gerard.

Touchdowns—Vesling, Scalise (Warren); Vanderhoof (Corry). Point after touchdown—Shea (Warren).

Substitutions: Warren—McGuire, Wright, Terry, W. Johnson, Fisher; Corry—Bogden, Douglas, Drone, Coates, Sorenson, Kimmel.

Officials: S. Servadeo, referee; Harkins, umpire; Cipolla, headlinesman; Ropelowski, field judge.

Approximately 225, including a delegation of eleven from Warren, attended the annual outing and dinner of the Bishops Men of the Erie diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, held Sunday afternoon at Cook's Forest, with Bishop Harold Sawyer, of Erie, as one of the speakers.

During the business session W. E. Rice, of Warren, was re-elected by acclamation as diocesan chairman of the organization. All district chairmen, including Richard Smith, of Warren, were re-elected.

In addition to the bishop speakers included Mr. Rice, of this city, and Ted Gannaway, director of the church program for the diocese of New York.

The Warren delegation, headed by the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, including Mr. Rice, Mr. Smith, John MacDonald, R. F. Dunham, G. Weston Ensworth, John Wolstencroft, J. W. A. Luce, W. C. Beck, Howard Lemon and Perry Sweet. The Rev. William Chamberlain and George W. Smith were present from Youngville, and Lester Sheldon represented St. Lukes parish, Kinzua.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE IS LOWEST SINCE '46

Figures released today by the Department of Public Assistance show that 315 persons in Warren county were dependent on public assistance during August. This represents 0.7 per cent of the county's population. Old-age assistance was given to 115, aid was given to 90 dependent children, to nine disabled persons, one person was given general assistance, and there were 100 pensions to the blind.

Departmental figures indicate that the downward movement in Pennsylvania's public assistance case load continued during the last half of August, amounting to 2,966 persons.

This latest decline was the sixteenth consecutive semi-monthly drop in the rolls since January 1, and brought the total decrease to 68,688 persons, a 19 per cent drop. As a result of the continued decline, Pennsylvania's public assistance is now at the lowest level since the fall of 1946 with 270,667 persons currently on the rolls.

EMBLEM IN NEW OFFICE QUARTERS

H. R. Logan, treasurer and general manager of Emblem Oil Company, announced over the weekend that the offices of this company have been moved into more spacious quarters in the office building of United Refining Company, Bradley street.

Emblem Oil Company, a subsidiary of United, was organized twenty-five years ago for the purpose of marketing and distributing the latter company's Keystone gasoline and Emblem motor oils and has during those years so expanded its facilities and personnel that additional office space was required to adequately carry on its activities.

In making the announcement of the change in location, Mr. Logan stated that the Emblem offices are occupying a section of the recently built and completely air-conditioned United office building. There will be no change in the Emblem Oil Company's telephone system and its customers will continue to reach it at the same telephone number, 2550.
